1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place within school.

Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene

Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy

Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships

Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

KWS values each and every one and our intent is to develop and culture of acceptance throughout.

2. Statutory requirements

As an Independent school we must provide RSE to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At KWS school we teach RSE as set out in this policy and highlighted in our service level agreements with the LA's we serve and our articles of association for further information.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – SLT pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make comment.
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to read the draft and make comment.
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made; the policy was shared with trustees and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about pupils' emotional, social, and cultural development, and it involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity, and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary in line with changes to guidelines and

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, considering pupils' age, needs and feelings. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond appropriately so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other elements are included in religious education (RE).

KWS provides bespoke education support for a diverse group, mostly those who have special educational needs and are supported by an Education, Health, and Care Plan; these needs are taken into consideration when developing the curriculum to meet those needs.

Pupils may also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained health professional, where deemed necessary, through individual referrals.

Relationships education teaches the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships.

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families

- Respectful relationships, including friendships

- Online and media

- Being safe

- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The Trustees

The Trustees will approve the RSE policy and hold the headteacher accountable for its implementation.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way

- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE

- Monitoring progress

- Responding to the needs of individual pupils

- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE

- Reporting any concerns they may have regarding sexually harmful behaviour through the correct channels.

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff concerned about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

All staff members have a role to play in promoting RSE by modelling acceptable behaviours.

All staff have a role to play in delivering RSE through targeted key work and when appropriate.

There will be a staff member who will be responsible for teaching RSE through PSHE.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and treat others with respect and sensitivity when discussing issues related to RSE.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher and designated safeguarding lead will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction through online courses.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE as well as commission outside training where necessary.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the SLT through: planning scrutiny, learning walks, and direct observation.

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems and through keywork sessions provided.

This policy will be reviewed by the SLT every 2 years. At every review, the trustees and the headteacher will approve the policy.
